Weather Conditions Given Out by the Department Observer.

Cloudy threatening weather with showers nearly every day prevailing over the entire State during the week ending Monday, July 17th, until Sunday, July 16th. Conditions were generally detrimental to crops and caused a complete suspension of all farm work. While mostly in the form of light showers, heavy downpours occurred at many places on the 12th, 13th and 14th, which caused a rapid rise in the rivers, with flooding of low lands. This was the case especially in the west, where all streams were out of their banks, and the French Broad was very high; thousands of acres of lowlands were under water, and the crops growing thereon were badly damaged. Hillsides were badly washed in places, and generally the ground is soggy that work in the fields is quite impossible. The average rainfall for the week for twenty selected stations was 3.00 or more than double the normal amount: Very little, hail, however, was reported. The temperature conditions were not unfavorable; the mean was slightly above normal, but without extremes; no maximum above 90 degrees occurred until the close of the week. The sultry, damp weather caused rapid and rank growth of many crops, as well as of grass and weeds, which are again becoming very troublesome in many fields. More sunshine is needed, and opportunity to finish laying by crops.

Cotton is reported quite generally to be making rank growth, and in the central-eastern portion is not fruiting well; considerable damage by shedding of forms and young bolls has also occurred; some rust is reported; in the western portion of the State the crops is fruiting well. While cotton at present appears to have been considerably damaged, the crop was generally in such good condition as regards tillage just before the rains began that probably a few days dry weather will show less injury than anticipated. Upland corn was benefitted by rain, except where pollen was washed off from plants just in bloom, but young lowland corn was damaged nearly everywhere; the true extent of the damage, however, cannot yet be ascertained. Tobacco did fairly well on well drained land, but suffered a little on low ground, where some is taking on second growth; cutting and curing are now well under way in a number of counties, but conditions were not favorable for making good cures during the past week. Some wheat and oats still in shock in the and sweet potatoes were slightly injured more for want of work than otherwise. Field peas grown for hay are sown. Melons have suffered from excessive moisture and are poor in quality. The wet weather has favored the rapid development of those fungus growths which cause the decay of fruit

A Record man asked a prominent cotton manufacturer if there were many new cotton mills under way in North Carolina at present. He said there were not and probably would be put few for some years to come. The trouble with the cotton mill business is two-fold. One trouble is the speculation in cotton, which keeps the price in such an unsettled condition that the manufacturer can hardly tell what his goods cost him and can maintain no standard of values for them, and another reason is that tucky and Tennessee - Statistics labor is getting so scarce in North Carolina that the mills that are now running are practically all short of help. SOLICITOR ATTACKED.

Mob Composed of Men Under Indictment For Operating Blind Tigers Attacked Room at Hotel Occupied By Solicitor Ward-Also Attack Mayor's House With Rifles and Pistols-No One Hurt-Several Arrests

Elizabeth City, Special.-Meagre details of an assault committed at Columbia, the county seat of Tyrrel county, when a crowd of illicit whiskey distillers, operating blind tigers in that section, made an attack on a room in the hotel occupied by Solicitor Ward and William Bond, reached here, the news being brought by a party which has just arrived at Edenton from Columbia. They state that the mob also attacked the residence of Mayor Woodley about 2 o'clock, rines and pistols being used in both instances. A number of window light were broken out, but fortunately, no one was injured. It is commonly reported that the attack was made by some whiskey men who were bent on wreaking ven geance for something they claimed Solicitor Ward and Mayor WWoodley had done against them. It is very probable that the crowd was composed of some men recently run down and prosecuted by the solicitor, for operating blind tigers, and who are now out on bond. Seven or eight of them, some white men and some negroes, have been arrested, but it is impossible to obtain their names at this time.

After the men had pleaded not guilty, the jury was empannelled and then the State introduced its evidence, among the witnesses being Marcom and King, who were on the jury in the Gattis-Kligo case. Some other witnesses were examined, and then counsel for Rogers and Sorrell told the judge they had no objection to his instructing the jury to return a verdict of guilty. The jury was then charged by the judge that, if it believed the evidence it had nothing to do but to return a verdict of guilty, and this the jury did, after having retired for a few minutes. had already been summoned, for mercy for Rogers and Sorrell, imposed a sentence of six months in jail. Their attorneys made a fresh appeal for reduction of their sentence, and the judge said he would take this under advisement.

The note suggests that the valayet be subjected to European control.

COLORADO HAS A SODA LAKE.

Remarkable Discovery Made In the Heart of San Luis Valley.

One of the most remarkable discoveries ever made in the region is that of a lake of liquid soda in the inaccessible desert between Crestone, Col., and Hooper, in the San Luit valey. The lake is an acre and a quar ter in extent and lies at the bottom of a little basin valley in the desert On its surface soda crystals have collected to a depth of eighteen inches the whole lake having the appearance of a body of ice with a hard snow covering.

A recent examination by the state school of mines shows that these crystals are 37 per cent pure soda, purer than most of the commercial soda offered on the market. A Denver man E. M. Falke, has secured a lease of the land containing the lake and is now installing machinery which will convert the native crystals into market able form. There are 4,000 tons in sight.

The school of mines experts say that the soda is a creation of feldspar. The granite mases of the Sangre de Cristo range stand sentinel on two sides of the little valley. The feldspar in the granite, undergoing decomposition, collects in the lake basin, where it is held in check by an impervious clay, and proper conditions are furnished for concentration and evaporation.

Banks as Public Benefits.

Many people who deal with banks every day do not really understand the proper object and purpose of bank ing. Banks can not create money, but they can gather small sums which are distributed among the people and thus create an aggregate which can be made available for important business operations that previousy would have been impossible. Individuals, each possessing a few hundreds or a few thousands, invest it in stock in a bank, and thus a fund | to the soil. of $50,000 or $100,000 is established in a town or community as a great aid to the business activity and prosperity of its people. There is no more money in the community than there was previously, but it is in a form where it can be made to assist in the successful conduct of five times or ten times the amount of business than its actual sum stands for .- New Orleans Picayune.

COMES A TIME When Coffee Shows What It Has Been Doing.

"Of late years coffee has disagreed with me," writes a matron from Rome, N. Y., "it's lightest punishment was to make me 'logy' and dizzy, and it seemed to thicken up my blood.

"The heaviest was when it upset my stomach completely, destroying my appetite and making me nervous and irritable, and sent me to my bed. After one of these attacks, in which I nearly lost my life, I concluded to quit and try Postum Food Coffee.

"It went right to the spot! I found it not only a most palatable and refreshing beverage, but a food as well. "All my ailments, the 'loginess' and dizziness, the unsatisfactory condition of my blood, my nervousness and irritability disappeared in short order and my sorely afflicted stomach began quickly to recover. I began to rebuild and have steadily continued until now. Have a good appetite and am rejoicing in sound health, which I owe to the use of Postum Food Coffee." ## SOUTHERN * FARM * NOTES.

TOPICS OF INTEREST TO THE PLANTER, STOCKMAN AND TRUCK GROWER.

Cowpeas and Corn For Sillage.

J. J. E., Berwyn, writes: I have been reading a bulletin on the use of cowpeas with corn and sorghum for silage purposes, but do not find any statement as to whether or not the yield is increased by growing the peas with the other crops. I would like some information along this line.

Answer: After several attempts to grow cowpeas with corn and sorghum for silage purposes, it is my opinion that the practice is not likely to prove very satisfactory. Corn or sorghum must be planted in rows about four feet apart with the stalks about eighteen inches in the drill row to insure a very large growth of peas. In a cowpeas may be obtained, but as a rule this will not be the case. Thus, the greater distance apart of planting necessitated to insure a good growth of peas cuts down the yield of corn or sorghum, which for silage purposes should be planted in rows three to three and a half feet apart in the drill row. Then, the cowpeas do not often climb on the stalks as well as is desirable. We have tried a good many varieties, and of all of them the Whipporwill and Lady were the best, but unless the plants get started properly, many of them spread over the ground and can be gathered by the corn harvester. Of course, hogs could be turned on the field so they would not

We have tried sowing the peas with the corn and sorghum after the crop had made considerable growth. It is much better to seed the peas and corn or sorghum together than to attempt to plant later. The work can thus be done at one operation and saving in time and labor effected. It is a mistake to let the corn or sorghum get the start of the peas, for unless they grow up vigorously in the beginning the ranker growing crops shade them so that they do not grow well. In several years' experience the largest percentage of peas obtained in the corn or sorghum crop intended for silage was ten per cent. This was not enough to have any appreciable effect on the feeding value of the crop and it little more than paid for the seed and the extra labor involved in planting. It would be much better, in my judgment, to sow the cowpeas in drills twenty-four inches apart and cut and cure as hay and feed with the corn or sorghum silage rather than attempt to balance up the food by growing them in the drill row unless some means can be devised by which a much larger yield is obtained than follows in the average year. Many persons will be inclined to doubt this statement, but they have never taken the trouble to separate the peas and estimate the relative percentage of peas in the crop. The peas climb vigorously and spread over the corn and sorghum plants very often until they almost cover them up, and one is ready to believe that there is a very large percentage of peas present, but actual test has failed to demonstrate this to be a fact.-Knoxville Journal and

Growing Celery.

A Northern man who has come South to live makes this report on raising of My method of growing celery since I have been in Virginia is as follows: Sow seed in early spring when there is plenty of moisture in the ground, as it takes the seed from three to six weeks to come up. These are the dates I have sown since I have been in Virginia: February 6, 1902; March 13, 1903; April 1, 1904.

I sow in good, rich, mellow soil, and it is a good plan to burn the ground a few days before sowing, the same as for a tobacco bed. When the young plants come up, I work very shallow to kill all weed and grass and to keep the young plants growing until time to set in the field. For the young plants, I select a piece of low, moist land, plow well and deep, about six to nine inches, and thoroughly work it over six to twelve times, and then open my rows from four to six feet apart, very shallow, and set the plants from eight to sixteen inches in the row.

These are the dates I have set out in the last three years: June 26 to July 4, 1902; June 20 to July 6, 1903; July 1, 1904. If one chooses, a row of snap beans may be planted between the celery rows. I work just as I would any other crop by running the fine-tooth cultivator through the rows once a week to retain moisture, but do not expect much growth until the cool nights set in. Just as soon as the celery commences to grow rapidly. I bring the dirt to it. about August 23. I take the celery out of the field about November 10, and use one of my old frames. I throw the dirt all out and then pack my celery as close as I can get it by putting a little dirt on the root. When this is done, I get pine straw or some fine hay and cover it entirely up, and then put the glass over it and stretch a sheet over the glass to keep the sun and light from it.

I leave it this way about two weeks until it is thoroughly bleached. Then it is ready to sell. If the weather should get too cold and threaten frost, it is a good plan to put fresh manure over the glass. I have grown white plume ever since I came here that measured over two feet .- Rice Journal.

Mrs. John LaRue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes, The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood-rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the pose, The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. ### Given Lien on Gravestones. Among the many remarkable acts of the Maine Legislature, recently adjourned, was the passage of a law establishing a lien on gravestones, by which the marble worker may, within two years from the erection of the stone, take possession of the memorial in satisfaction of any sum that nay at that time remain unpaid. When the law was under consideration in the legislature it attracted very little attention, but now that it has been passed there has arisen a great storm of protest. The law is denounced as 'ghoulish." and the legislature and ombstone makers are being roundly abused for their utter lack of decency n thus opening a legal way to the invasion of the sacred mints of the lead. But it is the law and Maine cople who wish to rest easy in their raves must now make sure before leath that the tombstone maker will e paid in full.

Cure For The Blues ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite aervous, and nearly fainted once or wice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer Nothing you have dyspepsia; you will be all right scon.

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 19th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkhain's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' actiones, extreme lassitude, the blues, acryousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suf-fer any longer with despondency, as I did be-fore. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound a boon to sick and suffering
